

Leaving a Gift to Asylum Seeker Resource Centre Suggested Wording for Wills

Leaving a gift in your will is a great way to support the vital work of the Asylum Seeker Resource Centre. It is only with the support of the community that we are able to ensure we can continue to protect, support and empower people seeking asylum.

Please refer to the two suggested scripts you can use in your Will to leave a gift to the Asylum Seeker Resource Centre.

To ensure your intentions are followed, it is important to word your Will to reflect this. Please consult a solicitor to ensure your wishes are correctly represented. The suggested wordings for each type of gift are set out below.

A gift that the donor has determined should be free of circumscriptions, thereby providing the ASRC with the flexibility to use the gift where it is needed most. It may be spent immediately on an urgent issue, or added to the ASRC's endowment fund. Such a decision is made by the ASRC Management team.
